Chatfield, MN - April 7, 2014 – The Pope & Young Club is proud to announce the continued support of Dead Down Wind as a Corporate Partner.

“Dead Down Wind is very proud of our long relationship with the Pope and Young Club,” says Monte McDowell, Owner of Dead Down Wind. “We have been supporters of the Club for years, both personally and professionally. DDW is extremely proud to stand with the Pope & Young Club and support the mission of such a great organization.”

“Long time supporters of the Pope & Young Club, Dead Down Wind is one of the our original partners in the Corporate Partner program. They were among the first companies to stand with us in defense of bowhunting,” says Rick Mowery, Communications and Marketing Manager for the Pope & Young Club. “We are proud of our continued association with a company that understands the issues that threaten our bowhunting heritage and the importance of the Pope & Young Club’s mission!”

The Corporate Partners Program allows manufacturers an opportunity to work with the Pope & Young Club to protect and defend bowhunting and wildlife conservation across North America.

Established in 1961, the Pope and Young Club is a non-profit North American conservation and bowhunting organization dedicated to the promotion and protection of our bowhunting heritage, hunting ethics and wildlife conservation. The Club also maintains the universally recognized repository for the records and statistics on North American big game animals harvested with a bow and arrow.
