Get Mature Bulls Screaming With Knight & Hale's Bull Horn Bugle Tube

Bull Horn includes Woolly Bully diaphragm to create an unparalleled elk-calling combo.

Birmingham, AL – Knight and Hale® Game Calls, a legendary call brand known for its dedication to creating calls that produce the most life-like wildlife sounds, takes decades of elk hunting experience and poured it into the Bull Horn Bugle Tube. Bugling is one of the most exciting parts of hunting elk, and the Bull Horn was built for the elk hunter who's not afraid of pulling elk in so close that it's uncomfortable.

Calling elk is a delicate balance of carrying the calls necessary to pull in any bull regardless of his mood, and traveling light enough to be able to go anywhere needed to seal the deal—that's rarely close to a road. To directly alleviate this elk-hunter's burden, Knight & Hale's Bull Horn Bugle Tube compresses to 12 inches in length for lightweight and compact transport into the darkest timber, and when duty calls, the Bull Horn extends to 23 inches for perfect simulation of real bugling.

The Bull Horn also features an easy-to-carry design that remains silent when accidentally bumped or scraped by branches as you sneak in and the action gets close and intense. In addition, the generous 23-inch length, in conjunction with the tube design, allows buglers exceptional inflection and volume control to dupe even the weariest of mature bulls.

To further diversify the sound range of the Bull Horn Bugle Tube, it comes with a Knight & Hale Woolly Bully diaphragm call to create a sound combo that's unmatched by the competition.

Bull Horn Bugle Tube Highlighted Features:

- Compressed measurement: 12 inches
- Extended measurement: 23 inches
- Easy-to-carry, silent touch design for lethal stalking
- Exceptional inflection and volume control
- Comes with a Knight & Hale Woolly Bully diaphragm call

The MSRP for the Bull Horn Bugle Tube is $19.99.
