

World Archery Youth Championship

Yankton South Dakota June 8-14

Carbon Express team members Stephan Hansen and Domagoj Buden win big at the World Archery Youth Championship with Hansen winning his third straight world championship title and Buden taking Bronze in the men's compound junior division.

Hansen began the event placing his Carbon Express Nano Pro arrows solidly in the X giving David Houser a little taste of what was to come during the round.

Hansen had a one-point lead that extended to two after the second end and he was three points up after nine and 12 arrows. This was a big advantage to take into the final end and too much for the USA's David Houser to recover from. Hansen finished with a final score of 147 over Houser 143.

Additionally Domagoj Buden won compound junior men's bronze using his Nano Pro's to beat Croatian teammate Mario VAVRO, 143-142

Carbon Express is very proud of the performance shown by Stephan Hansen and Domagoj Buden taking home the Gold and Bronze medals using their Nano Pro arrows.

